

Privacy Policy

A cookie is a small text sent to your browser (surfing software) from a website visited. Allows the website to store information about your visit, such as your preferred language and other settings. This can facilitate your next visit and increase the usefulness of the site in your favor.

Cookies are important. Without them, the use of the Web would be a much more frustrating.

Cookies are used by website www.sirples.com to count the number of visitors we receive and to store your preferences regarding the popup disclaimer on the use of cookies.

Are not saved and collected in any way user data visitor, if not explicitly stated above.

With the click on the "Ok, I authorize" button the user authorize the use of cookies by site www.sirples.com and related third party services.